PROSPECTIVE HERALD SUBMISSION
Uniform Recall of Attached Personnel

Submitted for consideration by The Herald.

The Institute has been informed that all personnel presently attached from outside departments, services, and agencies are being recalled to their parent organizations.

The notices arrived independently, took immediate effect, and provided no explanation. No replacement personnel were offered. Attempts to obtain routine administrative clarification have not produced useful responses.

Any one recall would be unremarkable. The uniformity is not. Personnel attached under unrelated authorities and performing unrelated functions appear to have been removed on essentially the same timetable.

The Institute's permanent complement continues operations. Remote programs and current fieldwork remain active, though several offices will temporarily absorb duties previously carried by attached personnel.

I recommend that the Church make no external inquiry at this stage. If the recalls reflect a shared administrative decision, asking too quickly may reveal more about our awareness than it yields in explanation.

For now, the event should be recorded as a pattern without assigning a cause. Institutions often become most informative when several of them independently insist that nothing unusual has happened.

Respectfully,
Howard Stonecipher
